

Center for Clinical and Translational Science

Accelerating discoveries to improve healthSM

Research Associate Clinical I

Under the direction of the Director of Clinical Operations in the Clinical Research Unit of the Center for Clinical and Translational Science, this position will support the ethical and efficient conduct of clinical research. Duties will include study coordination for inpatient and outpatient clinical studies, and conduct of study with research participants to support principal investigator and other research personnel during research visits. Activities require strict adherence to all applicable federal, state and local regulatory requirements related to human subjects research and clinical research, as well as excellent customer service. Related responsibilities include managing, planning organizing, and implementing the research process of clinical drug trials for the inpatient and outpatient unites; ensure all trails are conducted and completed in a timely and accurate manner in accordance with FDA, ICH, and GCP guidelines for pre-study through study close-out; conducting study visits under the direction of the principal investigator or nurse manager; managing multiple projects and prioritize workload; developing timelines for conducting and completing study protocols; assisting with assessment of protocol resource needs for budget development; and abstracting data from numerous sources to completing research forms in a timely and accurate manner.

Quick link to posting: <https://ukjobs.uky.edu/postings/176473>
The position will be posted until 3/4/2018.
